One other factor that is important in interpreting the need for transition is to remember that the Council was formerly divided into seven districts. For the future, the Council has three regions, each of which is divided into two districts for a total of six districts. A copy of the new geographic breakdown is enclosed for your information.

Your chapter is now in Region 3 of the Council. Olga Pendleton is the ASA Board Representative from your region with her term continuing through 1991 and 1992. The District Vice-Chairs for your region will also serve 1991 and 1992 with the first 3-year terms starting for the period 1993-1995.

Your chapter was formerly in one of the Council's odd-numbered districts. You were slated for a new term of office for your Council Representative for 1991 and 1992. I would suggest that you proceed to name a person for one more 2-year term, then you will pick up with the 3-year terms starting in 1993.

Please inform Carolee Bush at the ASA office of your selection by December 15, 1990.

Sincerely,

Rich Allen, Chair

Dear Dr. Lee:

The Council of Chapters needs your consideration and assistance with one issue relating to the transition to the new ASA Constitution and the new Council Charter. Chapters individually will have to decide how to handle the new provisions for the office of Council Representative. Perhaps it would be best for me to provide a background discussion of the new titles and terms of office.

The new Charter for the Council parallels the provisions of the ASA Board of Directors. Just as ASA Vice-Presidents serve a 3-year term and each person elected as ASA President serves a 3-year stint as President-Elect, President, and Past-President, our two new ASA Board Representatives will also serve 3-year terms. Correspondingly, the Vice-Chair (formerly called District Governor) from each of the six districts (formerly seven districts) will serve a 3-year term as compared to a 2-year term previously.

The new Charter also specifies that the term of office for the Council Representative from each chapter will be 3 years as compared to 2 years previously. This will allow the Council Representatives to gain more knowledge of Council activities and should result in better service back to the chapter. It is important to realize that the procedures used to appoint or elect each Council Representative will still be up to the local chapter. Some Council Representatives have served multiple consecutive terms and there is no prohibition to continuing that in the future.
